

Potions and Wands

First, you need to find some natural materials (I found lots of fallen petals in the park). Then, if you have any unused containers or jars, you can put your findings in and give them a new name! I had Troll backscratchers (pinecones), Goblin snots (winged seeds or helicopters, as we know them), Magic herbs (dried petals), Goblin toenails (beech nut shells), Fairy wings (large petals), Wildflower tonic (paint, water and daisies), Dragons blood (paint, water and red petals) and Fairy wishes (dandelion clocks and small white feathers).

To make your wand, you will need a stick, some double sided tape and natural materials. Wrap the double sided tape around your stick and add your natural materials to it.

Find a pot or a container to use as your cauldron and add your ingredients, give them a mix with your magic wand and create your very own spell.

We'd love to see your magic potions and wands and even hear about the spells you have been casting!
